

Dr. Mamoru Miyamoto

Researcher, International Centre for Water Hazard and Risk Management (ICHARM) under the auspices of UNESCO. Public Works Research Institute, Japan

Mamoru Miyamoto earned a master's and doctoral degree in Hydrology from Chuo University in Tokyo and is currently a researcher at the International Centre for Water Hazard and Risk Management under the auspices of UNESCO. Dr. Miyamoto has been active worldwide particularly in the area of flood management, taking advantage of his hydrological expertise. He has abundant experience in taking a central role in international projects to implement a system for flood forecasting, capacity development of local stakeholders, and disaster education in various countries such as Malaysia, the Philippines and Indonesia. He has also expertise to information networking through the IFI activities, published peer-reviewed papers on flood modeling and forecasting in several international journals and delivered workshops and presentations at various international settings