

Veerachai Tanpipat

Hydro and Agro Informatics Institute, Ministry of Science and Technology, Thailand

Technical expertise in remote sensing and geographic information system, especially in wildland fire detection, control and management, forest cover changes detection (deforestation, degradation and emissions calculation), natural disasters monitoring such as flood, storm, etc., climate change issues, international project coordination including the SCUBA diving instructor license from a high standard National Association of Underwater Instructors (NAUI).